

Coöperative Apartments

In many cases, nowadays, whole apartment houses are being bought by the tenants, each tenant becoming the owner of an apartment.

We have had much experience in handling this kind of a transaction. Our Closing and Law Departments are well equipped to examine such titles and complete the transaction for the buyers.

Our Trust Department acts as depository and sees to the payment of interest, taxes and other expenses.

We issue our policy of title insurance guaranteeing the owning company and are then in a position to issue policies in the future to the owners of the separate apartments.

If you are contemplating such a purchase, it will pay you to talk it over with us.

109 MIDSHIPMEN ARE ASKED TO RESIGN

Failed to Meet Requirements of the Examinations.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

ANNAPOLIS, March 23.—The resignations of 109 midshipmen were officially requested to-day, the young men having failed to meet the requirements of the semi-annual examinations a month ago or to improve their position by the re-examination a month later, which is now permitted.

The midshipmen who will leave the service belong to the following classes: First, 1; second, 24; third, 8; fourth, 74.

The results of the first term's work were awaited with special interest owing to new conditions at the academy. These changes appeared to about balance each other, as the number of enforced resignations is about in proportion to that in former years.

HOPE GIVEN UP FOR CARDINAL GIBBONS

Death Momentarily Expected at Archbishop's Residence in Baltimore.

IS OFTEN UNCONSCIOUS

Cathedral Authorities Announce No Change Will Be Made in Easter Services.

BALTIMORE, March 23.—Practically all hope for the recovery of Cardinal Gibbons was given up at midnight by Dr. Charles O'Donovan and other physicians attending at the archbishop's residence.

Since early to-night the physicians have been expecting the Cardinal's death momentarily. He lapsed into a state of coma late in the afternoon. The physicians regard it as doubtful whether he will recover consciousness.

About 9 o'clock to-night it was noted that the Cardinal's pulse grew considerably stronger. Even this failed to revive hope of his recovery, because of the extreme weakness resulting from his illness in December and because in his previous illness he had not suffered any prolonged spell of unconsciousness.

It was thought possible but not probable that he might live through several days in his unconscious condition.

A constant watch was kept at the archbishop's bedside by the physicians and every effort was made to ward off the hour of his death.

In all the Catholic churches of the city prayers were offered for his recovery or happy death. Anxious inquiries were made at the archbishop's residence and of the newspapers for news concerning the Cardinal throughout the day. Several times rumors circulated that he had died early in the afternoon.

The extreme illness of the Cardinal, who until last Sunday was believed to be slowly regaining his health, cast an additional gloom over Holy Week, but in event of his death the Holy Week service will continue uninterrupted. It was stated by the cathedral authorities that the Tenebrae service held to-night at the cathedral was the first in many years at which Cardinal Gibbons did not preside and sing the Benedictus.

Religious activities will be celebrated elaborately in all the Catholic churches as usual, it was said, the difference being the lack of a pontifical mass at the cathedral.

The Cardinal's condition remained virtually unchanged throughout the earlier hours of the night. His pulse had become stronger, however, and members of his household expressed the belief that he might live for several days. He has been unconscious since this morning.

FORD INSPECTS ROAD IN NEW GASOLINE CAR

May Equip Line With That Type of Rolling Stock.

ADRIAN, Mich., March 23.—In a gasoline propelled passenger car, recently perfected, Henry Ford and a party of business associates are making a tour of inspection over the main line of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton Railroad, which he recently acquired. Although no definite statement has been made, it is believed that the new car will be used in the inspection of the line.

The new car has the carrying capacity of the average street car.

Other plans of Mr. Ford for development of the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton road include a straightening out of the line's right of way between Detroit and the Ohio border. Surveys for the short-cut through Lenawee county (Adrian) already have been made.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, March 23.—The gasoline passenger car in which Henry Ford is making a tour of his recently acquired railroad, the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton, developed motor trouble just outside Springfield to-day and was abandoned by Mr. Ford and his party. They went by automobile to Dayton. Mr. Ford did not announce whether or not the remainder of the inspection trip would be made in the new car.

DECKER'S NEW MURDER STORY TANGLES CASE

Places Guilt for Lovett's Death on 'Dago Joe.'

WARSAW, Ind., March 23.—Grand Jury investigation into the death of Leroy Lovett, a twenty-year-old Elkhart youth, will be begun here to-morrow. Prosecuting Attorney H. W. Graham and his assistant were in conference many hours to-day with Sheriff C. R. Moon, assembling the evidence preparatory to presentation before the Grand Jury.

Virgil Decker's second confession yesterday afternoon, in which he placed the guilt on John Invagolnia of Elkhart, has complicated the case to a great extent, officials say. Decker, who is being held charged with the murder, previously had made a signed confession in which he said he alone killed Lovett.

John Invagolnia, also known as "Dago Joe," was arrested in Elkhart, Ind., yesterday following Decker's statement, and is being held in the Elkhart county jail in Goshen, where no one has been allowed to interview him. Warsaw authorities said he probably would be brought here Thursday and held as a witness before the Grand Jury.

Authorities to-day said that Decker in an explanation of why he first confessed to the murder himself said he had promised "Dago Joe" that he would not tell, and that he was afraid to tell because of the threats the Italian had made.

PHYSICIAN OBJECTS TO DRY RESTRAINT

Dr. McCaskey Denounces Prohibition Office Here as a 'Mad House.'

APPEALS TO WASHINGTON

'For God's Sake, Be a Man,' He Writes to Commissioner Kramer.

Dr. Donald McCaskey of 24 West Fifty-ninth street last night sent a letter to Federal Prohibition Commissioner John P. Kramer, severely criticizing the regulations limiting the use of whiskey for medicinal purposes and complaining of the treatment he had received at the hands of Director Charles R. O'Connor in this city.

The regulations complained of limits a physician to prescribing a pint of liquor every ten days for any individual patient, and Dr. McCaskey points out that whether or not a patient is in dire need of an additional supply physicians are powerless to serve.

"I have in some cases on my own initiative issued two prescriptions in ten days, feeling that what I was doing was justifiable because I was saving a life," Dr. McCaskey said. "It is my firm conviction that a physician should have the prerogative of giving prescriptions for liquors as often as he deems necessary."

Dr. McCaskey's letter to Commissioner Kramer follows: "Your Federal prohibition director for the State, Mr. O'Connor, refused to give me anything in writing as to why he would not give me a prescription book for my patients. After ten personal interviews with him all he substantially said was to write you."

Calls Office a Mad House.

"I have some sick patients and they need whiskey. Several of them need more than one pint in ten days as the law prescribes to facilitate their cure. In about eight or ten instances I issued two prescriptions in less than ten days."

"Your New York office is a madhouse. I spent the best of two afternoons trying to get action. First a girl passed the buck to a young chap and he in turn stalled as long as he could, and when I demanded some action he called in the acting director, who said his name was Nolan. He also stalled and told me to come back in two days."

"For God's sake be a man, even if you are the Prohibition Director, and get me fixed up."

Mr. Nolan said last night that he had talked with Dr. McCaskey, and as the latter had said he had violated the regulations sent here from Washington he was powerless to help the physician.

Section 17 of the article VIII, of the national prohibition act governing physicians' prescriptions says: "Blank prescriptions, form 1403, are issued by the commissioner in book form, serially numbered, and may be procured free of cost by any physician holding a permit to prescribe intoxicating liquor from the director."

Refuses to Modify Rule.

"The director should not issue more than one book of such prescription blanks to the physician at one time. However, a physician may procure a book of blanks when the blanks remaining in his possession are not sufficient to cover his needs for a reasonable period of time. Each book contains 100 single prescription blanks."

There have been many complaints by reputable physicians that the above law was being violated when regulations were sent out by Commissioner Kramer limiting one book of prescription blanks for each month.

The drastic regulation was issued because a few physicians had been caught overprescribing in more or less needed cases. Commissioner Kramer has refused repeatedly to modify the new rule and has so instructed his subordinates throughout the country.

KILLED BY ALCOHOL.

"Acute alcoholism" was given yesterday by Dr. Charles Norris, medical examiner, as the cause of the death of a man found dead in the hallway of a three-story building at 93 East Houston street near a former saloon. Papers in his pockets bore the name of Frank McGowan, Stamford, Conn.

Not the Time to Disarm, Harding Tells Quakers

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

New York Herald Bureau, Washington, D. C., March 23.

PRESIDENT HARDING made it plain to a delegation of the Society of Friends of Philadelphia at the White House to-day that he does not believe the time opportune for the United States to start on a policy of disarmament. The delegation learned after presenting a memorial asking such a course that it is not Mr. Harding's purpose to recommend to Congress at this time any curtailment of the naval building programme.

Mr. Harding's position seemed to be that while he is in favor of disarmament as a principle, so many elements enter into the situation at this time that it hardly would be becoming for the United States to take the lead in the movement.

It is his hope that some time in the future disarmament may be brought about, but not so long as misunderstandings in foreign affairs and lack of agreement among nations as to the proper aims in international questions lead them to increase their armies and navies.

ANDERSON, EXPELLED, SAYS LEGION IS DEAD

Horror of Rhine Speaker Calls It Paper Organization.

Alexander E. Anderson, formerly lieutenant-colonel of the 165th Infantry, said yesterday that he was not greatly concerned over the action of the American Legion in expelling him from its membership because of his recent speech before the "Horror of the Rhine" meeting in Madison Square Garden.

"My friends all know that the legion could not throw me out," he said, "as I have long since severed my connection with it. I feel that my case has been well championed and I am quite satisfied that the matter is settled. Every one knows just how I stand. There is no doubt in any one's mind that I am through with the legion forever. The American Legion is a great organization on paper only; it has no real power."

Officials of the legion, speaking of Col. Anderson's assertion that the legion was no longer a real organization, stated that although the post of which the Colonel was commander had been inactive for some time it had never formally surrendered its charter. The post has not been active since September 29, 1918, in the attack on the St. Quentin Canal.

CALLS RHINE HORROR MEETING DISGRACEFUL

Hobart's President Speaks at Soldiers' Graves.

GENEVA, N. Y., March 23.—The Rev. Dr. Murray Bartlett, president of Hobart College, to-day described the "Horror on the Rhine" meeting at Madison Square Garden as "the most disgraceful and hateful exhibition I have ever seen in my life." Dr. Bartlett spoke at the graves of two Geneva soldiers, whose bodies have just been brought back from France.

Dr. Bartlett, who served with the First Division in France as chaplain and was the only American college president decorated for gallantry under fire, said that the war heroes fought for a united America and it would have pained them to know that an attempt was made to divide America on foreign lines once more and to drive a wedge into the united States.

The soldiers at whose graves Dr. Bartlett spoke were Sergeant Earl W. Lautenslager and Corporal Alto C. Pinkney, both of the Twenty-seventh Division. They were killed September 29, 1918, in the attack on the St. Quentin Canal.

DIVORCE IS NEAR IN ICE BOX ROMANCE

Court Intimates Decree Will Be Granted to Wife of Illinois University Professor.

CRUELTY AMONG CHARGES

Husband Accused Mrs. Palmer of Meeting Butcher in Meat Storage Room.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. CHICAGO, March 23.—The spectacular ice box romance that ripped up the campus of the University of Illinois seemed on its way to eternal cold storage to-day when Judge Sabath indicated that he would grant a divorce to Mrs. Sylvia C. Palmer against Prof. Cyrus E. Palmer, head of the university's department of architectural engineering.

The move came as a surprise. The case had been set for hearing March 29. Prof. Palmer's attorneys appeared before Judge Sabath and announced that the sensational ice box charges would be dropped and that Mrs. Palmer might proceed with her plea on the grounds of cruelty. The stipulation provides $1,500 for Mrs. Palmer as "property rights" in lieu of all alimony.

The ice box romance came careening into public notice on June 18, 1920. At that time Prof. Palmer raised his own home and, according to his charges, found three men there indulging in a party. One of these, he said, was the village butcher of Champaign, Carl A. Carlson.

Prof. Palmer also announced that he had found evidence of other parties. Chief of these were love trysts in the ice box of the Carlson butcher shop. Among the legs of mutton and the lengths of liver sausage his wife and Carlson met, the professor said, and the atmosphere of frigidity did not cool their ardor.

Mrs. Palmer came to Chicago to file suit. Prof. Palmer responded with a suit in Champaign. After contesting the Chicago court's jurisdiction, saying his wife was not a resident here, he filed a cross bill to her Champaign suit, repeating the ice box charges.

Mrs. Palmer, called to the witness stand after the professor had made his decision to waive his cross bill, told of alleged acts of cruelty—~~that~~ he had struck and choked her on several occasions. When she endeavored to repeat some jump-up gossip about another woman she was halted by the court. She denied all the charges against her.

MRS. HANNA'S DIVORCE ACTION UNANSWERED

Delay Suggests Possibility of No Contest.

Special Despatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD. PITTSFIELD, Mass., March 23.—Although the action for divorce entered by Mrs. Molly Covington Hanna against Daniel R. Hanna of Stockbridge and Cleveland may come to trial at the April 4 sitting of the Berkshire Superior Court neither Mr. Hanna nor his local counsel has taken any open step toward contesting the suit.

Mrs. Hanna charges cruel and abusive treatment and intoxication. While the libel is on file the case has yet to be listed for trial. But divorce cases are in order at the April term, and the Hanna case probably will be put on the list for April, it is now said.

The possibility of an uncontested action is being discussed.

HARRY BLACK FINED $500.

New Yorker Faces Still Another Booze Trial in Florida.

MIAMI, March 23.—Harry St. Francis Black, New York millionaire arrested a week ago on a charge of violating the prohibition laws, was fined $500 to-day in the court of Hugh Matheson, Mayor of Coconut Grove, where Black's private car was raided last week and sixty cases of liquor seized. Black did not contest the case.

Black's two negro servants were fined $500 each in the same court Monday. Date for the trial of Black in County Criminal Court on the same charge has not yet been set. His car still is being held by the county authorities.

Noted Women Discuss THE GIRL OF TO-DAY

High Time for Mothers to Act If Home Is Not to Be Menaced

Dr. Katharine B. Davis. Mrs. Evelyn Smith Tobey.

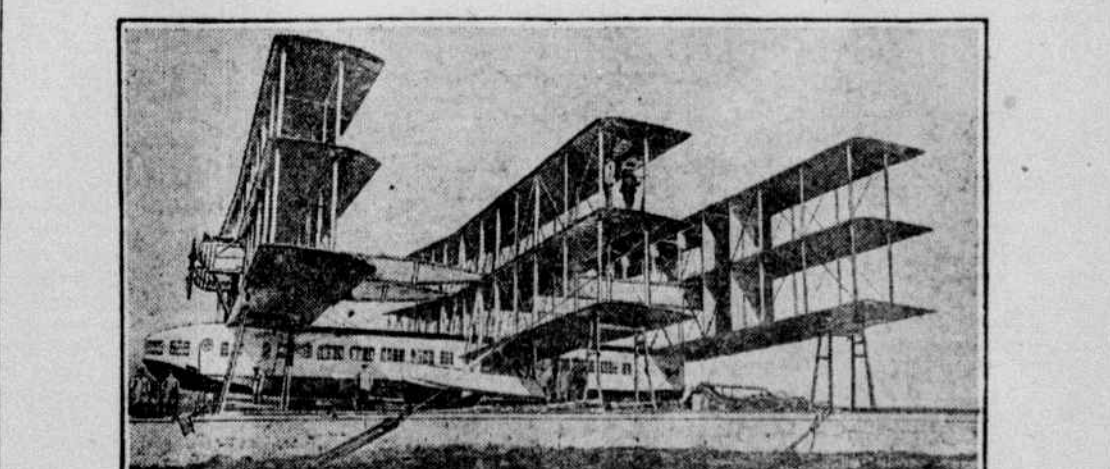

DURING the past several weeks THE NEW YORK HERALD has presented to its readers the views of prominent divines on the subject of present day morals.

In continuation of this highly important discussion, interviews bearing on the girl of to-day have been obtained with Dr. Katharine B. Davis, former head of Bedford Reformatory for Women, and Mrs. Evelyn Smith Tobey of Teachers College and the Carroll Club, who has 6,000 girls under her charge.

What these enlightened and experienced women reformers have to say about the moral status of the present day girl will be given deserved prominence in the Magazine Section of
